30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Readings: Jer 31:7-9; Ps 126:1-6; Heb 5:1-6; Mark 10:46-52

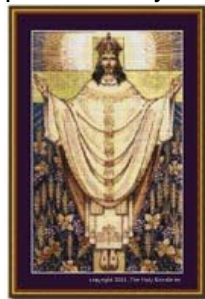

For the last six Sundays we have been on a journey with Jesus and his disciples toward Jerusalem.

The journey started with the healing of a blind man. Today at Jericho, the last stop before Jerusalem, Jesus healed another blind man, the beggar Bartimaeus. Bartimaeus displays a deep and persistent faith in Jesus' power to heal him. And the cure is immediate and complete.

The story of Bartimaeus provides a model for all who follow Jesus "on the way." When asked by Jesus what he wants, he expresses himself clearly, "I want to see."

Today's second reading develops the theme of Jesus as the perfect sacrifice for sins and as the great high priest. The role of the Jewish high priest was to offer sacrifices to God and serve as a representative of the people. Jesus offered himself as a sacrifice for sins and continues to act as our mediator at "the throne of grace."

The person of the Jewish high priest was very much a human being, beset by weakness and sin. While no stranger to human weakness, Jesus the Son of God was able to deal compassionately with sinners. Since Jesus did not belong to the tribe of Levi, but of Judah, he could not be appointed high priest. Jesus the Son of God was appointed directly by God to a better priesthood as we read the Old Testament texts: "You are my son, this day I have begotten you", and "You are a priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek."

Today's reading reminds us that the way of Jesus does not end in Jerusalem; through him we can approach the throne of grace with confidence and boldness, and we can expect mercy and favor from God.

Feast of All Saints
Masses on Wednesday,
November 1
11:30 am and 6:30 pm.

The celebration of the feast of All Saints is a day of obligation and it reminds us that many followers of Jesus have continued to walk in his way. The scene of the saints on earth and in heaven illustrates that we belong to a communion of saints. What unites the saints in heaven and on earth is our common identity as "God's children" The beatitudes from Matthew 5 list the virtues and attitudes that we must cultivate and practice if we are to enjoy the fullness of eternal life in the kingdom of God.

Commemoration of the Faithful Departed
(All Souls Day)

Mass on Thursday, November 2 is at 11:30 am in church.

You are invited to write the names of your loved one in the All Souls envelope or on plain paper; all names will be placed on the altar and remembered during the month of November and with the offerings received we will offer masses for them during the year.

Feast of St. Charles

November 4 is the feast of St. Charles Borromeo, the Patron saint of the Scalabrini missionaries, who are officially called "Missionaries of St. Charles Borromeo". Bishop Scalabrini chose St. Charles as the patron and the model of his missionaries.

Charles was born to the wealthy and noble Medici family who owned the three Borromeo Islands in the Lago Maggiore in Northern Italy. He was a civil and canon lawyer at the age of 21. When his uncle cardinal De Medici became pope Pious IV he made Charles secretary of the Vatican States at the age 21 and cardinal at 22 while still a layman. He was ordained priest age 25 and appointed archbishop of Milan. Charles chose a moderate way of life and spent his life and fortunes in the service of the people of his diocese and did not look for personal power and prestige. He directed and fervently enforced the decrees of the Council of Trent and fought tirelessly for peace in the wake of the storm caused by Martin Luther. Charles founded schools for the poor, instituted children's Sunday schools, established seminaries for clerics, hospitals for the sick and conducted synods.

Charles did public and private penance, and worked tirelessly among the sick and dying during the plague of 1576. He died at the age of 46. He was declared a saint in 1610.

“Lạy Chúa xin cho con được thấy”

Khi ấy Chúa Giêsu cùng với các môn đệ trên đường hành trình về Giêrusalem, thì ghé lại thành Giêricô. Khi họ bước vào thành phố thì có một người hành khất mù, la lớn kêu cầu Chúa Giêsu “Lạy Chúa Giêsu, con vua Đavít xin nhủ lòng thương xót con”. Mọi người liền bảo anh ta hãy im đi, nhưng Bartimê càng kêu lớn hơn “Hỡi con vua Đavít xin thương xót con”

Chúa Giêsu dừng lại và hỏi anh ta “Anh muốn Ta làm gì cho anh?” Người mù thưa “Lạy Chúa xin cho con được thấy”. Chúa Giêsu liền bảo “Được, đức tin của anh đã chữa cho anh”. Tức thì anh ta thấy được và đi theo Chúa Giêsu.
